

Come Celebrate

the Harvest

with the Society of Elder Faiths

Saturday September 11
at Brigham Hill Community Farm in Grafton Gather at 6 PM; Orientation at 7 PM
All adults and teens welcome!

At Autumn Equinox,
we feel the transition from light to dark.
But we also celebrate the bounty of the Earth
as she yields Her greatest harvest -- Her gifts of sustenance and hope to last us through the winter.

All attendees are requested to bring a fully prepared and cooked hearty main dish to be shared at the post-ritual feast, along with any necessary serving utensils. Oven space is available to warm up food, and we'll supply cups, plates, and eating utensils. SEF does not sell or supply alcohol, but you may bring some for your own moderate use.

Suggested donation:
$5 Members / Ages 13 - 18 free / $10 all others

To allow our Rite to begin promptly,
there will be no admittance after 7 PM

Building a vibrant Pagan community in Massachusetts since 1996

The Society of Elder Faiths is a religious group, legally incorporated as a church in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to provide services to the local Pagan community which require larger scale and more formal structure than individual covens can comfortably offer.
